REPORT

The Dumb Charades competition held at RBVRR women's college of pharmacy was a highly entertaining and engaging event that showcased participants' creativity, acting skills, and teamwork. Teams competed against each other in a friendly atmosphere, eliciting laughter and excitement from the audience with their spontaneous performances. The competition followed a classic Dumb Charades format, where participants took turns acting out movie titles, book names, phrases, or songs without speaking, relying solely on gestures and body language to convey the message. Teams had a limited time to guess the correct answer, adding an element of urgency and excitement to the game.

REPORT

The Video Making Competition held in celebration of Pharmacist Day at RBVRR women's college of pharmacy was a creative and informative event that highlighted the crucial role of pharmacists in healthcare. Participants crafted compelling videos to raise awareness about the pharmacy profession, educate the public about important health topics, and inspire future pharmacists. Participants explored a variety of themes and topics related to pharmacy practice, pharmaceutical sciences, patient care, medication safety, and public health. Each video presented a unique perspective, addressing important issues and showcasing the diverse responsibilities and contributions of pharmacists in different settings.

Teams demonstrated creativity and technical skill in their video production, employing storytelling, visual effects, animation, and narration to engage and inform viewers. The videos effectively conveyed key messages and captured the attention of the audience, delivering valuable information in an accessible and engaging format. Many videos aimed to educate the audience about the role of pharmacists in promoting medication adherence, managing chronic conditions, and ensuring safe and effective use of medications. Some videos also shared personal stories and experiences to inspire aspiring pharmacists and celebrate the dedication and compassion of pharmacy professionals.

REPORT

The Patriotic Song Competition held at RBVRR Women's College of Pharmacy was a stirring and patriotic event that celebrated the spirit of nationalism and unity. Students showcased their vocal talents and passion for their country by performing a diverse range of patriotic songs, invoking a sense of pride and reverence for the nation among the audience. Participants from RBVRR Women's College of Pharmacy enthusiastically participated in the competition, delivering heartfelt and soulful renditions of patriotic songs. Each performance was a testament to the love and respect that the students held for their country, as they sang with fervor and emotion, captivating the audience with their powerful voices and stirring melodies. Participants chose songs that embodied the spirit of patriotism and unity, drawing from a repertoire of nationalistic classics and contemporary compositions. The competition featured songs that paid homage to the sacrifices of freedom fighters, celebrated the cultural diversity of India, and inspired hope for a brighter future, resonating with the themes of Republic Day. An esteemed panel of judges, comprising faculty members or external experts, evaluated the performances based on criteria such as vocal talent, expression, emotion, and overall presentation. Judges assessed the participants' ability to convey the essence of the patriotic songs and connect with the audience on an emotional level, ensuring a fair and comprehensive evaluation of each performance.
