Blood Donation Camp

Blood Donation Camp

On January 9th, 2019, RBVRR Women's College of Pharmacy, in collaboration with Lions International, organized a blood donation camp. The event drew a diverse group of participants, including students and members of the local community, resulting in 91 individuals donating blood. This significant contribution addresses the ongoing need for blood transfusions, supporting patients with critical medical conditions. Beyond its immediate impact, the initiative served to raise awareness about the importance of blood donation and foster community involvement. Overall, the campaign exemplified selflessness and unity, leaving a lasting positive impression on both donors and the wider community.

Haritha Haram

RBVRR Women's College of Pharmacy conducted a "Plantation Drive" on January 23rd, 2019, within the college campus, inspiring student volunteers with a sense of purpose. The event saw the planting of diverse saplings, enhancing the campus's beauty. Collaboration between students, gardeners, and workers boosted the drive's efficiency. The conclusion featured refreshments and gratitude, underscoring appreciation for all involved. RBVRR WCP aims to host more impactful events, aiming to educate volunteers on afforestation's significance. These initiatives aspire to integrate nature appreciation into daily life, fostering sustainability and environmental consciousness for a brighter future.

Republic Day

On Republic Day, the Principal and Secretary, RBVRR Women's College of Pharmacy hoisted the National flag and delivered a speech emphasizing its importance to the students and staff. The occasion united students, faculty, and staff in a spirited celebration, underscored by their collective dedication to propelling RBVRR Women's College of Pharmacy forward in research and innovation, striving for higher achievements.

Three Day Workshop - Chemo Informatics in Drug Discovery

Three Day Workshop - Chemo Informatics in Drug Discovery

The three-day hands-on training workshop on Chemo informatics in drug discovery was organized by RBVRR Women's College of Pharmacy in association with Make Intern and E-Cell IIT Kharagpur, from February 14th to 16th, 2019. Chief guest Prof. Kavitha Waghray, Dean and Head of the Department of Pharmacy, UCT, OU, along with Guest of Honour Prof. Muthyam Reddy, inaugurated the event with a lamp lighting ceremony. The workshop, led by Dr. Sujeeth, aimed to educate participants on software tools accelerating the design of new leads for treating life-threatening diseases. The event was attended by 40 members from various colleges, including faculty, research scholars, and students, culminating in a valedictory session where five meritorious students were selected for the next round at IIT Kharagpur.

Seminar - Journal Selection : Different Databases

Prof. Muthyam Reddy's, Secretary RBVRR Women's College of Pharmacy presented a seminar on "Journal Selection: Different Databases," on January 4th, 2019, focusing on essential aspects of academic publishing. He stressed the importance of choosing suitable journals based on criteria such as relevance and impact factor, and discussed key databases like PubMed and Scopus for effective literature searches. The session provided practical tips on navigating research databases and highlighted ethical considerations in publishing. Overall, Prof. Reddy's seminar enriched participants' understanding of academic publishing and equipped them with valuable skills for research and literature review.

Seminar - Research Methodology And Project Report

Seminar - Research Methodology and Project Report

On February 20th, 2019, RBVRR Women's College of Pharmacy hosted a seminar titled "Research Methodology and Project Report," led by Prof. Tippa Reddy. The event aimed to enhance participants' understanding of research methodologies and project report writing. Prof. Reddy, a retired professor with extensive experience in academia, covered fundamental topics such as research methods (quantitative, qualitative, and mixed), formulating research questions, research design, sampling techniques, data collection methods (surveys, interviews, etc.), data analysis, and structuring project reports. The seminar was well-received by students, faculty, and researchers, providing practical insights essential for future academic and professional pursuits in research.

Cancer Myths and Facts

RBVRR Women's College Of Pharmacy hosted a Guest Lecture titled "Cancer-Myths and Facts," featuring Dr. Rachana Chenamaneni from NIMS, Hyderabad on February 25th, 2019. Dr. Chenamaneni aimed to dispel misconceptions about cancer while educating attendees on its causes, prevention, strategies and various treatment options including surgery, chemotherapy, radiation therapy, and immunotherapy.

The session included an interactive question and answer, encouraging participation and deepening understanding among students and staff. Overall, the lecture played a crucial role in enhancing awareness and empowering informed decision-making in cancer prevention and treatment.

Carrer Opportunities for Pharmcyy Professionals

On March 12th, 2019, RBVRR Women's College of Pharmacy hosted a seminar titled "Career Opportunities for Pharmacy Professionals," featuring Dr. Chandrakant Kokate, Professor and Vice-Chancellor of KLE University, India. The seminar aimed to enlighten B.Pharmacy students about various career paths available post graduation.

Dr. Kokate provided a comprehensive overview of current trends and emerging opportunities in the pharmaceutical sector. He discussed advancements in drug development, regulatory affairs, and the increasing role of technology in shaping the industry's future. Students gained valuable insights into potential fields for their careers.

The seminar included an interactive session where students engaged with Dr. Kokate, asking questions and seeking advice. This interaction facilitated a deeper understanding of career planning and skill development in the pharmaceutical field.

In conclusion, the seminar proved highly beneficial for the students, equipping them with knowledge and a strategic approach to excel in the competitive pharmaceutical industry. Dr. Chandrakant Kokate's guidance effectively bridged academic theory with practical insights, preparing students for successful futures in the pharmaceutical sector. The session concluded with expressions of gratitude to Dr. Kokate for his valuable contributions.

Mumps Awareness Programme

RBVRR Women's College of Pharmacy organized a impactful "Mumps Awareness Programme" near Chappal Bazar, Kachiguda on March 15th, 2019. The initiative aimed to educate local residents about mumps, covering symptoms, transmission methods, and preventive measures such as vaccination. The program included informative sessions, workshops, and distribution of educational materials such as leaflets. Twelve students actively participated, demonstrating their commitment to community health. By fostering dialogue and dispelling misconceptions, the initiative promoted proactive health practices and underscored the role of educational institutions in enhancing public health awareness and community well-being.

Seminar - Literature Review In Research

RBVRR Women's College of Pharmacy hosted a seminar titled "Literature Review in Research," on March 18th, 2019, featuring Mr. Prabashankar from a prominent pharmaceutical company. The session focused on the crucial role of literature review in research, offering practical guidance on navigating academic sources, and employing methodologies like systematic reviews.

Attendees, including students, faculty, and researchers, gained valuable insights into ethical considerations such as plagiarism and proper citation practices. The seminar was well-received, enhancing participants' abilities to conduct thorough and effective literature reviews in their academic pursuits.

Health Camp

RBVRR Women's College of Pharmacy, in association with Thyrocare, conducted a health camp on the occasion of International Women's Day. The event targeted women from Barkatpura Society, as well as faculty and their families from the college. Thyrocare provided crucial health services such as screenings, check-ups, and consultations, thereby bolstering the camp's impact and engagement. This initiative underscored RBVRRWCP's dedication to community health and the well-being of women. It also proposed the possibility of organizing future health camps, forging more collaborations, and continuing health education efforts to empower the community further.

TB Awareness Programme

TB Awareness Programme

Students from RBVRR Women's College of Pharmacy actively participated in a tuberculosis (TB) awareness program on 23rd March, 2019 held in Hyderabad's Ram Nagar area. Their involvement highlighted the college's commitment to community health. The students engaged local residents through educational activities such as distributing pamphlets, conducting interactive sessions, and having one-on-one conversations. They emphasized early detection, treatment, and prevention of TB, empowering the community with essential knowledge. This initiative not only supports the fight against TB but also underscores the importance of student-led community engagement in addressing public health challenges. Ongoing efforts in organizing such programs will continue to foster healthier communities in Hyderabad and beyond.

Workshop - Recent Trends in Formulation Design and Bioanalytical Estimation

RBVRR Women's College of Pharmacy hosted a three-day workshop on "Recent Trends in Formulation Design and Bioanalytical Estimation" in association with IPA, Telangana from March 28th to 30th March, 2019. The workshop began with a lamp lighting ceremony by Chief Guest Dr. T.V. Narayana, President of the Institute of Public Accountants, and Guest of Honor Dr. Rao V.S.V. Vadlamudi, President of the CPA. The session was led by chief guest, who highlighted the many theoretical and practical elements of various softwares while highlighting various aspects of career potential in pharmacy with an emphasis on bioanalytical development and validation.

Swatch Bharat

RBVRR Women's College of Pharmacy initiated a "Community Clean-Up Initiative" on 28th April, 2019 to enhance local cleanliness and aesthetics. Through activities like litter collection and beautification projects, students learned about environmental stewardship and civic responsibility.

The initiative aimed to create a cleaner, healthier community while nurturing a strong commitment to environmental conservation among students.

Coaching For GPAT/NIPER/PGECET

RBVRR Women's College of Pharmacy organized special coaching classes from July 2nd, 2018, tailored for final year B. Pharm students preparing for GPAT, NIPER, and PGECET exams. The schedule features dedicated faculty for each subject:

Pharmacology- Dr. J. Archana

Pharmaceutics-Dr. K.V. Ratnamala

Pharmaceutical Chemistry - Dr. M. Vijaya Bhargavi

Pharmaceutical Analysis - Dr. Bhavya Sri

Pharmacognosy - Dr. Sudha Parimala

These classes aim to provide conceptual clarity and exam preparation strategies, focusing on:

- Achieving competitive exam success and securing good ranks.
- Equipping students with essential exam skills.
- Orienting students according to the specific exam formats.

The crash course covers the entire syllabus of GPAT, NIPER, and PGECET exams, incorporating mock tests for both individual subjects and comprehensive review sessions. This comprehensive approach is designed to meet the specific needs of students aspiring for excellence in these competitive exams.

65 students actively participated in the initial training sessions, with positive feedback emphasizing satisfaction with the program's effectiveness. Students have expressed a strong interest in continued and expanded initiatives of this nature in the future.

Campus Drive by Doctus & Apollo Pharmacy

RBVRR Women's College of Pharmacy conducted three successful campus drives for placements. On May 16th, 2018, Doctus Pvt. Ltd. held a campus drive where 25 students participated, resulting in 11 placements. On February 1st, 2019, Apollo Pharmacy held a drive attended by 17 students from M.Pharm and B.Pharm, with 14 students securing positions. Another drive by Doctus Pvt. Ltd. on February 11th, 2019, saw 26 students participating, out of whom 19 were selected for placements.

COLLEGE ACHIEVEMENT

RBVRR Women's College of Pharma was recognized for its exemplary coordination of the National Pharmacy Week and influential outreach programs. Engaging both students and faculty, RBVRRWCP celebrated the pharmacy profession while fostering strong community ties and promoting social responsibility among future pharmacists. This achievement highlights RBVRRWCP's steadfast commitment to excellence in education and service, reinforcing their pivotal role in advancing pharmacy with integrity and dedication.
